Teen Musicians from local middle and high schools will join a band, learn the ins and outs of the rock music biz, and prepare for a final concert with The Outer Vibe at the Common Ground Music Festival.

Students (ages 12-18) with some experience at guitar, bass, drum set, piano, brass, or singing are welcome.

At camp, students will form and work in their own bands based on musical interest and skill level. They will learn songs in preparation for an end-of-camp rock concert on Saturday at the Common Ground Music Festival and participate in workshops such as songwriting, marketing, promotion, sound, and more!

Students who play other instruments or have limited experience should consult with the Community Music School.
